

Meeting School 2022 Course Catalog

The future of work is here.

Organizations around the world are quickly adapting to new ways of working that are more complex, more distributed, and more dynamic. In response to these changes, today's workforce is meeting more than ever before.

Whether you're an independent contributor, team leader, business executive, or facilitator, Meeting School offers the skills training and education you need to develop your meeting literacy. Our suite of on-demand courses, live workshops, and instructor-led seminars give you access to the knowledge and skills needed to run successful meetings every day.

Learning is essential right now. Investing in professional development for you or your team is one of the most important things you can do. And of all the ways you can invest in your team, none will have a greater impact on your success than your investment in better meetings.

Today, most workers spend between 20% and 80% of each week in meetings, with that number increasing the higher up in the organization you go.

Yet, fewer than 24% of meeting leaders receive any training in basic meeting skills.

This means you have an opportunity. When you invest in meeting training for your team, you'll increase the value of the time you're investing in meetings. And because very few receive this kind of training, you'll be creating a distinct competitive advantage.

How can we help? Whether you want to improve your existing meetings, develop skills for running specialized meetings or workshops, develop your one-on-one management or interviewing skills, or learn the very latest in meeting and performance science, you will find a program suited to your needs.

We live and work in a time where workplace changes require constant learning and re-skilling. We are honored to partner with you as your organization develops your meeting performance in pursuit of your business goals.

Wishing you successful meetings every day,
Elise Keith

Why choose Meeting School as your professional development resource?

Meeting School is the world's only online educational marketplace designed to make it easy for teams to run successful meetings every day.

For over 10 years, that's been our mission. We're a meeting innovation company, aggressively collaborating with researchers, business leaders, facilitators, and the larger community of people who believe meetings can and should be productive and engaging.

Today, thousands of professionals from around the world turn to us every year to learn how to lead great meetings with their teams.

Immediately Actionable Training

Unlike the meeting training you'll find in most corporate training libraries, every Meeting School course comes loaded with ready-to-use resources, student discussion forums, and access to expert instructors.

WHAT YOU GET WITH EVERY MEETING SCHOOL COURSE

- 1. Downloadable agendas, worksheets, templates, conversation guides, and planners. We make it fast and easy for busy professionals to use what they're learning.
- 2. Discussion forums. See questions and ideas shared by other students, and get answers to your questions.
- 3. Live skill-building workshops. Dive deep with guest instructors and innovators from around the world in interactive workshops each month.
- 4. Expert support. Meeting School is supported by a team of meeting experts who can solve technical problems and answer questions about how to apply the course content. Many instructors reply directly to student questions, providing a level of instructor access that you won't find in any of the mainstream training libraries.
- 5. Lifetime access and regular updates. Instructors regularly update course material as the world of work evolves. In 2021, for example, many courses added guidelines for virtual workshops and hybrid meetings.

Engaging Distant Participants: Quick Tips for Hybrid Meetings

Mini-Course updated for 2021!

Hybrid meetings are some of the most challenging meetings to run. Success often requires the equivalent of planning three meetings at once: the in-person event, the virtual meeting, and a way of interacting that brings these together in real time.

When you implement the strategies you learn in this quick-tips course, you will run hybrid meetings that are engaging and successful, and avoid the many traps that dramatically reduce their effectiveness and harm your reputation.

WHY TAKE THIS COURSE?

This course includes:

- Six short video sections that walk you through the opportunities and pitfalls of hybrid meetings, supported by short quizzes to test your understanding.
- Exercises to help you relate your learning to your real-life practice.
- Checklists for meeting leaders and participants, to ensure you are ready with the hybrid-meeting technology you'll need.
- A workbook that includes tips, summaries and references.

WHO SHOULD ATTEND?

Leaders, facilitators, managers, and coaches will find this an invaluable source of guidance on how to make your hybrid meetings interesting, useful, and productive experiences that help you get things done.

“Love the mini course. Short, sharp and a powerful help to those that have hybrid meetings!”

- Ashley Meerloo, Business Coach, UK

“Highly recommended. There are some excellent practical ideas for making those awful hybrid meetings more effective. I particularly liked the basic approach of planning ‘remote first’. The course is well organized and structured with excellent, clear materials. I like the way it’s broken up into shorter ‘chunks’ so you can take a break if you need one - although it’s less than an hour long so probably not necessary.”

10 Science-Backed Rules for Meaningful Meetings

Discover the meeting practices scientifically proven to increase your meeting success. Focused on practice and grounded in cutting-edge research, this course provides the “missing MBA” for today’s business meetings.

In this course, Joseph Allen, PhD and Elise Keith dive into the research behind 10 science-backed rules for meaningful meetings. Then, they share the stories and practices of teams who’ve successfully built these rules into their everyday meeting practice.

Each rule comes to life with a special guest lecture featuring master facilitators and international thought leaders from business, special operations, Harvard, and Stanford.

WHY TAKE THIS COURSE?

- Learn evidence-based meeting practice and real-world examples from teams around the world.
- Gain access to leading researchers and practitioners in business communication, facilitation, and human performance.
- Join a vibrant community of past and current participants in live workshops and online discussion.
- Put the research into practice with weekly exercises

WHO SHOULD ATTEND?

This course benefits anyone who attends lots of meetings. If you want to have a meaningful impact on your team’s meetings and you’re curious about why some meetings work and others don’t, this course is for you. Current students come from countries and industries all over the world.

SPECIAL RESOURCES FOR COLLEGE COURSES

Business Communications courses that use this course as supplemental instructional material gain access to sample lesson plans, student project outlines, and discussion guides developed by instructors at Harvard Business School and the University of Utah.

“I liked everything about the course! As a result of attending this course, I gained new resources, access to amazing thinkers and practitioners in this area, and the course allowed me to create a valuable community of practice network.

Each module was engaging, easy to follow, and let me learn on my own time. Now, I’m more thoughtful about the design and purpose of my meetings, and more confident about choosing the right tools to support the purpose of any meeting I design.”

Mind Reading for Managers®

This proven program takes managers step-by-step through five focused conversations that balance the needs of the organization with the needs of the individual.

Kim's simple, practical program has been used by teams around the world to increase performance, productivity, motivation, engagement, and psychological safety with their teams.

WHY TAKE THIS COURSE?

- Set the bar and hold staff accountable for high performance (especially with a remote workforce).
- Implement effective, enjoyable 1:1 check-ins or provide a proven structure for your existing 1:1s.
- Replace (or improve) your performance review process.
- Increase employee engagement, motivation, productivity and performance.
- Understand and meet your team's needs (and manage their expectations when you can't).

WHO SHOULD ATTEND?

All managers leading or supervising direct reports who are seeking a better alternative to traditional annual performance reviews.

"We've successfully used the Mind Reading for Managers / 5 FOCUSED Conversations™ program to completely replace our annual performance appraisals.

No one liked our old system and it was very time consuming for both managers and staff. Not only did this program achieve our goal of eliminating performance appraisals, we immediately noticed a 10% reduction in re-work after implementing this program, which has a direct impact to our bottom line.

Even our most skeptical of managers has come to embrace the monthly conversations."

How to Discover, Interview, & Hire Amazing Remote People

Learn how to find great remote candidates and design an interviewing process that involves your team.

In this course, you'll learn a simple, organized process you can use to make sure nothing falls through the cracks – even if your team works across time zones and whether your team includes experienced interviewers or not.

WHY TAKE THIS COURSE?

- Use a template to organize the entire remote interviewing process, from the review of applications through deciding on a candidate.
- Lead productive interviews that quickly separate great candidates from poor fits.
- Hold productive team meetings that get everyone on board with the hiring process.
- Avoid common problems unique to hiring for remote teams.

WHO SHOULD ATTEND?

Hiring managers, HR directors, team leads, and interview teams, whether you're hiring your first remote team member, overhauling your in-person hiring process to work with remote candidates, or seeking to improve your existing remote hiring process, this course is for you.

“When I had to hire someone for my remote team, I realized my “Hiring How To” folder contained notes from Johanna’s articles and blogs. I feel confident to again go through the process of hiring a new contractor.”

— Mike McIntosh, Amway

How to Assess & Improve Your Meeting Leadership Skills

Over the past decade, a new science of meetings has emerged. Researchers now have insight into what makes a meeting productive, enjoyable, and successful. Scientists also know that when a meeting isn't working well, most often it's because the meeting leader missed a critical opportunity to set the meeting up for success.

Are you a good meeting leader? This is your opportunity to find out.

Reserve an hour to take this fast-paced course. Then, after some "home-work", discover your meeting strengths and learn where you have opportunities to grow.

WHY TAKE THIS COURSE?

- Get an introduction to the richness of meeting science and how it can be used to solve common meeting challenges.
- Assess how you are doing as a meeting leader (strengths and growth areas).
- Learn evidence-based strategies to improve upon common meeting leader growth areas.

WHO SHOULD ATTEND?

Business team leaders working in mid-to-large organizations, whether you've just started leading meetings, you've been leading meetings for some time, or even if you've been leading meetings for decades.

"This is a fantastic course that uses evidence-based practices to improve your meeting leadership skills.

Dr. Rogelberg takes you through some key learnings from his vast studies of the science of meetings (in a very friendly and amusing way), and then lands them by focusing in on our blind spots - that was a big "ah-ha" (what? I could be part of the problem?)

I liked the simple tools to guide you and help you understand your areas for improvement. I also appreciated the numerous ideas and especially knowing that they are based in scientific research.

If you want to be the best leader you can be, then take on your blind spot and take this course!"

Engaging Online Events: The Complete Step-by-Step Guide

If you have experience bringing people together to learn from each other, this course will teach you a simple yet super-effective recipe for quickly creating powerful connections across groups online.

Judy Rees walks students through the process, step-by-step, showing exactly how to plug in your content, for your groups, to deliver the maximum possible impact.

This recipe delivers clear results whether your group is made up of customers, colleagues, professional partners, donors, board members, campaigners or students, and wherever they are in the world.

WHY TAKE THIS COURSE?

- Learn how to structure engaging web events that delight the participants - including presenters and sponsors.
- Choose and use technology to create a seamless experience for everyone involved.
- Persuade your participants to stop spectating and to turn up prepared to participate, with their video cameras on.
- Handle button-pressing overwhelm and manage inevitable technology problems.
- Skip the 'tumbleweed moments' and get people talking - but nobody talking too much.
- Package your unique content so that it works effectively online.
- Go straight to solutions that deliver reliably, and avoid embarrassing rookie errors.

WHO SHOULD ATTEND?

Organizers, presenters, trainers, and facilitators looking to bring more engagement to online seminars, workshops, board meetings, training, and other high-stakes events.

“Two things happen when you take this course. First, you gain an awareness for how terrible most online events are (including your own). Second, you learn what it actually takes to rise above the status quo through participatory methods.

Judy shares the knowledge and experience you need to run better, more humane events that bring people together and leave them better off.

Believe me, it makes worlds of difference.”

Workshop in a Box: Artificial Intelligence Strategy

Learn everything you need to create a strategic Artificial Intelligence roadmap in one day. This training and toolkit gives you everything you need to run a full-day workshop and, at the end, have a prioritized roadmap of AI opportunities that you can start implementing immediately, in an ethical-first way.

WHY TAKE THIS COURSE?

When you lead this workshop, you will gain:

- A fast track understanding of AI that level-sets the group, no matter what their level of technical understanding is—what is and is not, in a simple, human-centered way, and a common language for talking about AI
- Executive and senior level buy-in for your direction and roadmap
- A shared, cross-functional understanding of the highest priority solutions to your challenge and why AI is the right path
- A heat map of the most inspirational and impactful opportunities that could be unlocked using AI
- A risk assessment that sets the stage for the unique governance requirements of ethical AI development
- A set of prioritized “do now” opportunities that can be translated into tangible action plans

WHO SHOULD ATTEND?

This complete ready-to-run workshop is ideal for:

- Business leaders responsible for their organization’s product or services roadmap
- Facilitators who want to gain proficiency in leading service design workshops as a service

“Helen and Dave delivered a brilliant session for our 500-person advertising team at The New York Times. For businesses not inherently rooted in technology, there is perhaps no phenomena as alluring in its potential, inevitable in its advance and utterly terrifying by virtue of its technical and moral complexity as artificial intelligence. Dave and Helen delivered a uniquely engaging session that addressed this exact complexity and everyone came away from the workshop more optimistic about the role AI will play in our business moving forward.”

The Successful Meetings Quickstart

This workshop is designed to quickly get your group on the same page as you prepare to improve meeting performance across the organization.

This educational workshop introduces the key concepts and frameworks leaders must understand to develop a high-performing meeting culture.

Delivered as three (3) 90-minute online sessions, the Quickstart Workshop covers:

SESSION 1: IMPROVING YOUR MEETING EXPERIENCE

Get in touch with “What’s in it for me” by learning what the science says makes meetings feel like a great use of your time. Then, work with your team to capture your beliefs about the current state, opportunities, and challenges in your meetings.

SESSION 2: YOUR BUSINESS’S MEETINGS

Learn the four measurable ways meetings impact performance (ROI) and the frameworks for designing meetings to achieve your business goals. Then, use these frameworks to draft meeting processes for your business.

SESSION 3: YOUR ORGANIZATION’S MEETING CULTURE

Learn how organizations use simple meeting agreements to maintain meeting performance and cultural alignment in complex-adaptive environments. Walk away with a draft set of provisional meeting agreements you can all use going forward.

OBJECTIVE AND OUTCOMES:

- Participants will know how to structure and participate in a simple team meeting that engages everyone and delivers tangible results.
- Participants will learn how to calculate the ROI impact of meetings on their work.
- Participants will identify how their meetings impact both their personal and business success and identify target meetings to improve.
- Participants will co-create a set of draft meeting guidelines they can use when planning future meetings.
- Your team members will benefit from first-hand experience with simple techniques that make meetings more productive and enjoyable for everyone involved.

“I was really dreading spending a full day talking about meetings, but that was so much fun! I wish I’d found you guys earlier in my career. I’m recommending this workshop to my leadership team, and to several of my clients.”

Create a Plan for Effective Team Meetings

Define the agendas, schedule, and systems your team will use to ensure your meetings succeed.

In this hands-on workshop series, team leaders design an approach to team meetings that's tailored to your unique work environment.

Each half-day session includes interactive instruction and dedicated time to create your plan.

Session 1: Effective Meetings

Analyze how well your current meetings achieve your business goals and develop new agendas that optimize your results.

Session 2: Efficient Meetings

Determine exactly how often and for how long your team needs to meet, and how you can increase efficiency by improving communication outside of meetings.

Session 3: Resilient Meetings

Identify the systems your team will use to ensure your meetings remain effective and efficient over time.

Office Hours

After the workshop, gather with other participants to share your implementation successes and challenges, and get answers to questions.

OBJECTIVE AND OUTCOMES:

- Walk away with a quarterly meeting schedule and custom agendas for your most frequent team meetings.
- Learn how to identify and correct problems with team meetings before they impact team performance.
- Connect with a network of peers and support one another as you implement your new plan.

"I wanted to say your information has been a game changer for my management team. We lacked structure and were trying to do too many things in one meeting every few weeks. It was a recipe for lost opportunities and delays in problem solving.

We're a different team now; one that can leverage everyone's skill and expertise by structuring our meetings better. The quality of our conversations has improved as has the speed in which we make decisions and deliver our services."

How to Lead Engaging Virtual Meetings That Keep Your Team Aligned (Without Burning Out)

Learn how to make the best use of virtual team meeting time, then go beyond virtual meetings.

In this live, instructor-led workshop series, participants learn how to create a sustainable communications ecosystem for your team to strengthen collaboration, improve communications, and speed time to results across time and distance.

Session 1: How to design and lead virtual team meetings that keep everyone engaged and make the best use of everyone's time

Session 2: Draft virtual team operating norms to defuse tension, improve communication, strengthen collaboration, and galvanize team members to achieve shared goals

Session 3: Learn how to create a virtual team communications ecosystem that makes it easier, faster and more predictable for team members to give and get the information they need to get work done faster

Session 4: In this final round table discussion, participants share lessons learned, discuss what approaches worked (and which didn't), cross-pollinate knowledge, solve real-world problems and ask questions.

OBJECTIVE AND OUTCOMES:

- Know how to schedule and lead online meetings that keep teams engaged while combating Zoom fatigue.
- Learn how to create a set of team agreements that prevent communication overload while ensuring everyone stays in the loop.
- Map your virtual team's communication architecture, identifying when and how to best use meetings, email, chat, systems-of-record, and other ways of communicating to ensure that the right information gets to the right people at the right time, with less effort and less stress.

"It is a powerful learning journey working with Nancy. Her attention to detail, ability to collaborate and depth of knowledge have made all the projects we've collaborated on to date a success. Thank you for adding value at every turn!"

– Amy Vine, Organizational Development and Learning Director, Commonwealth Care Alliance

Ready to get started?

Here's how our process works.

STEP 1. CONTACT US

By email: sales@lucidmeetings.com

Web: lucidmeetings.com/contact

Phone: +1 (877) 291-2384

Let us know:

- Which course(s) or programs you're interested in
- How many participants you'd like to enroll

Not sure which course is right for your team? Get in touch.

We'll happily answer all your questions and help you find the best fit for your needs - even if it's not one of our courses!

STEP 2. PROPOSAL OR QUOTE CO-CREATION

We'll create a proposal or quote with you during the meeting that you can share with your internal team. We'll co-create this together, so there will be no surprises.

Your quote will include any group or special rate discounts. Discounts begin at 20%.

You'll receive a copy of this proposal by email.

STEP 3. APPROVAL AND INVOICING

Your team will approve the proposal and send invoicing information.

STEP 4. COURSE SETUP

Once the invoice has been issued and approved, we'll set up your courses. For live workshops, we begin scheduling after invoicing.

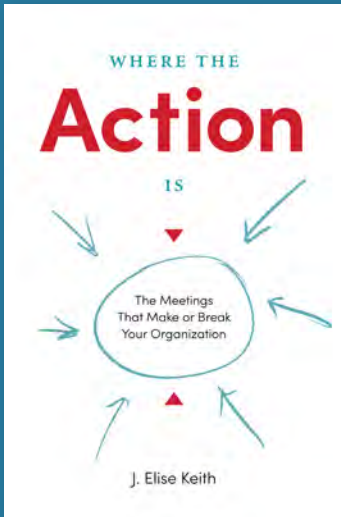

STEP 5. LEARNING BEGINS!

You and your team begin your learning adventure!

Need focused help with your business meetings? We wrote the book.

“This book is golden. It’s deep, well-researched, and a joy to read. Keith breaks down every business meeting into a taxonomy that provides specific tips – not generic best practices – on formats, timing, and framing. You still may not love every (or any) meeting, but you will find value in the engagement and team performance in the meetings you do have.”
